SPORTS ROUNDUP

1. The first step in the process is to identify the problem. This involves gathering information about the situation and the people involved.

2. Once the problem is identified, the next step is to analyze it. This involves breaking the problem down into its components and understanding the underlying causes.

3. After analyzing the problem, the next step is to develop a plan. This involves determining the steps that need to be taken to solve the problem.

4. The final step is to implement the plan. This involves putting the plan into action and monitoring the results.

5. Once the problem is solved, it is important to evaluate the process. This involves reflecting on what worked well and what could be improved for next time.

6. The final step is to share the results. This involves communicating the findings of the process to the relevant stakeholders.

7. The final step is to document the process. This involves creating a record of the steps taken and the results achieved.

8. The final step is to review the process. This involves checking back on the results and making any necessary adjustments.

9. The final step is to celebrate the success. This involves acknowledging the efforts of the team and the achievement of the goal.

10. The final step is to learn from the experience. This involves reflecting on the process and identifying lessons learned for future reference.

2 Killed, State Officer Wounded

Steel Wounded in Gun Duel

Seek Man's Identity
Towarkann Dec 23 — (UP) —

State and county officers today were attempting to establish the identity of a white man, one of two killed in a gun duel near Fulton, Ark., north of here last night. The other dead man was identified as Jeffro Daniels of Texarkana, Tex., a 28-year-old Negro. The two were killed, and Sgt.

The white man carried two identification cards. One bore the name of Virgil Woodrow Jackson of Mountain Valley Road, Hot Springs, the other that of Frederick Hamilton Crouse of Embury, Officers said today, however, that they did not believe either card belonged to the dead man. They were of the opinion that he was an escaped convict. Fingerprints were taken and airmailed to the Federal Bureau of Investigation in Washington.

police said the pair had stolen a truck at Texarkana and were driving north on Highway 67 when they were overtaken by Tackett and Chief Deputy Sheriff Tillman Johnson.

On the ride back to Texarkana, the white man pulled the gun on the officers and a free-for-all followed in which the Negro was killed instantly. The white man escaped but his body was found later in the woods.

Against More Training

By LYLE C. WILSON
Washington, Dec. 23 —(UP)— American Communists have launched a campaign against the administration's universal training program based on the charge that United States military preparations since V-J Day have scared the rest of the world half to death.

The Communist stroy is that American Army and Navy brass is hell bent for battle right away, or anyway soon. The Army and Navy story is that our national defense forces were pretty nearly wrecked by the hurry-up demobilization which began when the Japanese quit.

Events and reports of civilians who have inspected our military situation at home and abroad sup-

Red Ultimatum Causes U. S. Ship to Leave Dairen

By WILLIAM H. NEWTON
 Editor, Minneapolis Star Tribune

For the Combined World Press (Distributed by United Press)
Dairen, Dec. 20 — (Delayed) — United States Navy ship pulled out of the port of Dairen this afternoon after receiving a verbal ultimatum from Russian military authorities to the effect that unless it leave within 20 minutes, we it will not be responsible for the consequences."

Previously, the Russian military commander in charge of the city had refused to permit an American businessman with full American U. S. authorities to board him from the ship. Also denied permission to land were two Ameri-

The vessel, LC3 1080, was on a scheduled routine cargo mission to deliver carrying diplomatic mail and supplies to the U. S. consulate there. In view of the fact that the details of the first trip had been revealed to the press, two correspondents were permitted to take passage on the trip. Admiral Charles M. Cooke Jr., commander of the Seventh Fleet, in order to be present in event their going ashore would meet with the approval of local authorities. Admiral Cooke had ruled that no U. S. Navy ships could be made without the consent of the local offi-

The ship arrived at Dalren Dec. 18, and requested permission to remain in port for 48 hours. This was accepted without comment by the U. S. authorities, who kept the ship at Anchorage. The ship remained in the harbor two additional hours while U. S. Consul General H. Merrill Benninghoff attempted a last minute appeal to military authorities to permit an American businessman, Jesse L. Poole, Atlanta, Ga., representing the Standard Vacuum Oil Co., to go ashore. It was at this point that the Soviet ultimatum was delivered.

leave despite the fact that neither the diplomatic courier nor the commanding officer of the ship were aboard. They were at the American consulate awaiting results of Consul General Benninghoff's final appeal to the Soviet commander. They arrived on board only at the very moment of the ship's departure.

The Russian military commander of the city, Maj. Gen. V. A. Korzhanov, refused to see the American consul general, however, and the ultimatum was delivered to the ship by one of his military aides.

When the consul called at the Soviet commander's home to appeal from the decision banning the Russian-Americans from the area. He was left standing in the bitterly cold street while a sentry carried his request inside. After some time, he was told that General Korzhniov was not available.

Mr. Benningshoff had previously called on the Russian consul general S. N. Petrov, to inquire why American citizens were not allowed ashore. Mr. Petrov replied that the whole matter was in the hands of Soviet military authorities. He said authorization for such entries must come from Moscow.

Today was the third rebuff the American consul general had received from the Soviet military during the American ship's brief visit.

Previously, Mr. Benninghoff had asked Soviet diplomatic authorities to forward his request that the three Americans be permitted ashore to the military authorities. No reply was received. Earlier today, Mr. Benninghoff visited General Korzhanov's office but was informed that the Soviet commander was "not in town." He then called at the Russian commander's home and was again turned away.

However, the Russian commander was in his home when Mr. Benninghoff called, it was learned.

control of the Red Army. The local Soviet-appointed Chinese mayor is a figurehead, who was not even advised by the Soviets that the American ship had arrived. "Had I known you were coming I would have been at the dock to greet you," he said.

Armed Chinese police, under Soviet direction and control, paced the docks day and night, preventing anyone from coming aboard or leaving ashore unless they possessed a Soviet pass. Several of the ship's officers and Diplomatic Courier Harris H. Ball, Amarillo, Tex., were permitted ashore by the authorities.

The Soviet ultimatum to leave the port was delivered to the ship by a Red Army major who stated he was the personal representative of General Korzhanoff. Ensign Tilhman B. Koons, of Plainfield, N. Y., who speaks Russian, interpreted for the senior navy officer on board, Commander Edgar L. Yates, Portland, Ore. The captain of the ship is Lt. (JG) Ray C. White, Silver City, N. M.

The LC-3 1090 carried a crew of 26 enlisted men and five officers. All of the ship's armament was removed before the trip to Dalnin,

STARS FAIL TO WARN

Baltimore.—(P)—A woman book-maker, nabbed in a vice squad raid on her apartment, was unwilling to credit police for her misfortune, attributing it instead to extreme astrological negligence.

Alexander Johnson, leader of the vice unit, testified in police court that he seized lottery and race bet sheets in her apartment, plus a book on astrology.

Whereupon, according to his testimony, the woman told him gloomily: "If I had read that book today, I'd have known you were coming, and you wouldn't have caught me."
